Villa Blanche Terret Blanc – IGP Oc 2017

Part of C&J's series of ancient grapes.

Very 'primary' nose, smelling mostly of fermentation esters rather than fruit. Is this the yeast? Lime sherbet bonbons and raspberry candy. Bit of passion fruit. I can see how this will appeal widely – it's very easy and bright and candyfloss fun with fabulous zingy acidity. But not interesting, as I'd hoped it would be. (TC)
